Season Greetings
Solar Server receives European Media Award

Dear readers of Solar Daily Insight powered by www.solarserver.com.

Wishing you every happiness this Holiday Season and prosperity in the New Year.

Thank you for being our reader and subscriber.

We look forward to informing you on the development of the global solar industry in the coming year.

All the best to you and your family,

Rolf Hug, Editor in Chief

EUROSOLAR European Solar Prize awarded to Solar Server, powering Solar Daily Insight

In December 2010, EUROSOLAR, the European Association for Renewable Energy, awarded the 2011 EUROSOLAR Media Prize to Solar Server (www.solarserver.com), powering Solar Daily Insight's content, for excellence in global industry reporting.

"Launched in 1997, the 'Solarserver' has developed from being one of Germany's 'best-kept secrets' to being an international online portal for photovoltaics, solar heating and solar building," according to EUROSOLAR award notes.

Solar Server serves the global solar industry with a network of international industry editorial professionals. "This global network is "the foundation for the Solarserver's authoritative and continually up to date reporting about changes in social and economic structures and developments in politics and technology."

SolarServer
Online Portal to Solar Energy

"The number of users from Europe, America, Asia and India is growing fast and testifies to the importance of the online medium and to the successful internationalization of the Solarserver."
